Mrs. Miller, Miss Hilda Miller and Geo. Miller of Mildmay, Ont., are visiting with Mr. W. Miller of J. V. Berscht's store.

Mr. Lindquist has bought the fast running horse, Sapphire, from Harry Gibson. We understand a good price was paid for it.

Miss Janet Dickson of Innisfail was visiting her brother, the assistant at the C. P. R. depot here, for a few days last week.

The town of Tofield is rejoicing, and properly so, because a well being drilled by the corporation has developed gas from which it is estimated that 1,500,000 cubic feet per hour is flowing.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the Ev. church on Monday, July 8th, at 4 o'clock. The order of the meeting will be a drill on the annual report book. All ladies are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Dr. Quirk of Calgary, the well known dentist, brother of Mr. J. Quirk of the Golden West hotel, completely wrecked his big seven passenger touring car, on June 22nd, by trying to save a foreign workman from being run down on Seventeenth avenue. As a result of the accident the car was demolished.

The Citizens Band came out on Monday and gave their first concert in the new band stand. The large audience which turned out greatly appreciated their playing. The band struck up the "Red, White and Blue" march just as the 8.20 train pulled into the depot and the passengers all came out and gave them three rousing cheers.

THE SAMPLE MARKETHow it Will Increase the Car Shortage

From time to time the grain growers of Western Canada are faced with problems affecting the disposal of the products of their labor; questions that require the most careful consideration. To come to a satisfactory conclusion on these vexing problems demands a thorough investigation of all the possible results which would arise from the adoption of the proposals made. To often the actual results of the operation of the proposed schemes are obscured by parties interested in securing pecuniary advantages.

Such a scheme is the one now before the Western grain growers, in which an effort is being made to establish a sample market for the handling of grain. The imaginary benefits of such a market are extolled while the injuries that would result from it are utterly ignored. Chief among the faults that may be found with the proposed scheme is the greater length of time which would be consumed in conveying the grains from the point of shipment to the lake front.

Every farmer knows the value of the rapid transit of grain from the farm to the market. The present cry from one end of the country to the other is that the railways are too slow in moving the crop. There are too few cars and insufficient motive power. And yet the establishment of a sample market would further lengthen the time of transit and lessen the abilities of the railways to handle the crop.

Next fall, one of the railways will be hauling into Winnipeg at least 500 carloads of grain every day. Should a sample market be established the grain would be sold by separate carloads on sample, and ordered out on time. The whole railway yard cannot be switched to pick out a particular car as each order is received, so that there will have to be a rule to start switching cars every night after five o'clock. This means, therefore, that a car of grain reaching Winnipeg after eleven o'clock on Saturday morning would not start to be switched until after five o'clock on Monday evening, as the grain would not be disposed of at the grain exchange before Monday.

Cars that reached Winnipeg before eleven o'clock Saturday morning and were switched Saturday evening would be shipped on Sunday. But on Monday there would be no grain moving out of Winnipeg. That means that practically no grain would be shipped out of Winnipeg for twenty-four hours each week. The same thing would occur on Thanksgiving Day and the other holidays.

Making the very best allowances it means that one day in every seven would be lost, and as there are only seventy-seven days in which the crop moves, which would include eleven Sundays and at least one holiday, it means that the ability of the railways to move the crop would be lessened by twelve days out of seventy-seven, or roughly speaking, the transportation facilities of the railways of the Northwest would be cut down by at least sixteen per cent.

Then, taking into consideration the glut that would take place at the lake front through the rush of grain there in the first part of the week owing to the hold up at Winnipeg over Sunday, it is not an exaggeration to say that the power of the railways to move the crop would be reduced by twenty-five per cent.

The agitators for a sample market are saying that the railways should add to their rolling stock and yard facilities. But every man who exercises common sense knows that notwithstanding their heavy expenditures and every effort they were able to make the railways have been barely able to keep up with the large increases in the crops produced in the West. It is apparent, therefore, that if the railways are hampered in their movement of the crop to the extent of twenty or twenty-five per cent, that the grain blockade will be worse than ever before.

The western farmer is well aware that a grain blockade always works to the detriment of those who raise the grain and to the advantage of those who buy grain and hold it in their elevators. The results of the grain blockade of last fall are still felt in the West. Let the farmers consider the results of a blockade twenty-five per cent worse than the last one before they consent to the establishment of a sample market and its attendant evils.

It was a shy young man who was once asked to take a class of girls about 15 or 16, which had formerly been taken by a woman. The young clergyman consented, says London Tit-Bits, but insisted upon being properly introduced to the class. The superintendent accordingly took him to the class for this purpose and said:

Young ladies, I introduce to you Mr. Chira, who will in future be your teacher. I would like you to tell him what your former teacher did so that he can go on in the same way.

Control of Insect Pests

The division of entomology of the Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has recently issued a bulletin by Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, dominion entomologist, on "The Control of Insect pests in Canada."

An account is given of the history of the war against insect pests in Canada and of the manner in which insect pests have invaded the country as it has been gradually opened up and cultivated. The manner in which the Dominion and Provincial governments are endeavoring by legislative and other means to prevent the introduction of insect pests into Canada and the increase and spread of those pests already here is described. An interesting summary of the various lines of work undertaken and carried on by the division of entomology at Ottawa is given and the general public will no doubt be surprised at the many problems which come within the scope of the entomologists who are called upon to deal with the insects in their relations to all the varied activities of man; insects affecting farm crops, fruit growing, forest and shade trees; insects attacking man's possessions and infesting houses, attacking domestic animals and finally affecting the health of man. All insects, however, are not injurious and the work of the entomologist includes bees and bee keeping and the study of parasitic and other enemies which may be of assistance in obtaining control of insect pests.

May I look at it?

Harry held out his hand. On his little finger was the massive signet ring in question. Engraved upon a bloodstone was the Clavel crest, a mailed arm in the act of hurling a lance, and the motto—

Forward, Clavel!

Denzil Warne looked from the ring to the face of the wearer. Then in harsh, suspicious tones, he inquired—

How did your father get it?

He had it made in New York. Harry replied coolly. He always wore it, and since his death I have always worn it.

Denzil Warne rose and pushed back his chair, muttering something like a curse under his breath.

What is your name? he asked roughly, with a dull menace in his eyes.

I am called Worth here, Harry said, rising also, and facing him with quiet determination. My mother's father was Gerard Worth, and on her marriage she made my father add her name to his. My father left England as a little boy. His original name was Henry Payne Clavel, and he was the second son of Sir John and Lady Clavel of Lyllyngton Court.

Mr. Warner stared at him for a moment too angry to speak.

Then he brought his fist heavily down upon the table, making the cups and glasses rattle and ring.

I might have known it by your cursed dark face! he muttered. I thought there was something wrong about it. How dared you, sir, as a Clavel, show your face within my walls? How dared you address one word to any member of my family? How dared you—

Harry put up his hand.

All this is waste of words, Mr. Warner, he said sternly. I had no wish to know you or to visit your house. You insisted on bringing me here, and in your niece's presence I could not explain my objection against coming.

These miserable old stories about the wrongs of the Warnes and the Clavels are new to me, as I have been in England only a week, and have ignored my family history. I cannot personally see why they should affect the present. I thank you for your hospitality, and regret that it was given under a misapprehension. If you will make my excuse to the ladies, I will take my leave.

Denzil Warne stared at him in surely malevolence. The thought that he had a Clavel within arm's length and could do him no personal injury, distressed him.

The sooner you go the better, he said, as I do not wish to forget that you are under my roof. The carriage will take you back to Crayborne. I wish you clearly to understand that no one in this house will have any dealings with you from to-night, and that I shall warn everyone in Crayborne against you. Harry bowed coldly.

As you please, he returned. As soon as I have changed my clothes, I would prefer to walk back. Good-night, Mr. Warne.

CHAPTER XXIV

A Cup of Coffee

On the day following his visit to Vale House, Harry found himself in the office of Messrs. Trentham & Ash, solicitors, in Lincoln's Inn Fields.

Mr. Trentham was a portly, elderly man of florid complexion and genial address. His partner, Mr. Ash, was a small, alert person of abrupt manners and suspicious glances. Both agreed in assuring Harry that the papers he had placed in their hands amply proved his identity. But they wanted his mother's address, as it would be necessary to communicate with her, and to take certain evidence of hers on commission.

The estate had been put in chancery they informed him, on account of an idea which prevailed that Henry Payne Clavel, Harry's father, was still alive. As a matter of fact no news of his death, and very little other intelligence about him, had been received since he ran away from school to sea forty years before.

His sister Marion, at the age of seventeen, had accepted an offer of marriage she received when on a visit to some friends in London, and had wedded, against her father's wish, a certain Joseph Symonds, who had subsequently made a large fortune in Liverpool and Melbourne in the wholesale furniture trade.

It was known that her husband had been made mayor of Liverpool, and had been knighted, and it was believed that he and his wife had a large family of sons and daughters. But of recent years they had lived entirely in Australia, and since the "Crayborne Tragedies" nothing had been heard of them.

According to the entail, Lady Symonds would have been able to claim the Clavel property, in default of the appearance of Henry Clavel, or his heirs, after the death of her elder brother, Sir Alan, and his son Roger, but Lady Symonds had made no move in that direction, and advertisements and researches after Henry Clavel proved that he had certainly not been drowned, but that he had made a stay in Mexico ten years after the date of his departure from England; after that time, however, all trace of him had been lost.

The difficulty would be to account for his movements during the three or four years which had elapsed between his leaving Mexico and his settling down in New York and marrying Gerard Worth's daughter.

It is no doubt only a question of time, Mr.—or I suppose I ought to say Sir Henry Clavel, Mr. Trentham observed, with his expansive smile. For I presume from what you have said that you intend to use the title?

I see no reason why I should not, if as our history says, we came over with the Conqueror, we certainly did not begin our crimes only seven years ago. It does not seem much use for me to pretend to be anything but a Clavel in Crayborne.

Already the sexton has remarked on my likeness to the family, and a mad woman chased me down the churchyard yesterday, throwing stones at me because I was a Clavel.

It is an unusual type of face, Mr. Ash remarked, staring hard at Harry over his eyeglasses. As a young man I was in the office of Messrs. Wentworth & Sons, who managed the Clavel business. I saw Sir John once or twice, and Sir Alan often. There was certainly a strong resemblance between them and you.

Not until half-past three did Harry leave the office. On one point Messrs. Trentham & Ash could set his mind at rest; the administration of the estate was being carried out with comparative honesty, and with a not undue percentage to the lawyers. After many generations of extravagant Clavels, the property was at length having a chance under judicious direction.

Naturally enough, Harry did not mention any of his unusual and romantic experiences to these level-headed men of law. He left everything in their hands, and it was understood that as soon as Harry's mother had been communicated with, and her evidence and that of her father and some other persons taken to explain certain facts about Harry's father, Messrs. Trentham & Ash would communicate with the present representatives of Messrs. Wentworth & Sons and the Court of Chancery, and steps would be taken to prove Harry's claim to the property.

Meantime, he himself could only "lie low and observe," as Mr. Trentham expressed it. There seemed to be in all human probability nothing to prevent Harry from becoming Sir Henry Clavel of Lyllyngton Court before the year was out. He wondered as he walked out of the office and across the square in the direction of Fleet Street, why he did not feel more elated at the prospect.

But in his heart he knew the reason. The title and the estate were but the beginning of his desires. To picture himself as Sir Henry Clavel, reigning in solitary grandeur at Lyllyngton Court, was anything but agreeable; and unless he could induce Lady Anne Daubeny to leave the haunted seclusion of Lodders Abbey and share his home and name, he felt that he would rather leave England and go back to his old life in America.

SEVERE NEURALGIA

Cured Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There is an excellent reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the most severe cases of neuralgia, sciatica and other complaints in the group known as disorders of the nerves. This group also includes St. Vitus Dance, partial paralysis and the common state of extreme nervousness and excitability. Each of these complaints exist because there is something the matter with the nervous system. If the nerves have tone and are strong and healthy you will not have any of these complaints. The reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders is, that they restore weak, run down nerves to their proper state of tone. They act both directly upon the blood supply and the nerves. The highest medical authorities have noted that nervous troubles generally attack people who are bloodless and that the nerves are toned when the blood is renewed. It is thus seen that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders by curing the cause of the trouble. The following is an instance. Miss Annie Jones, London, Ont., says:—"For over a year I was an intense sufferer from neuralgia, which located in my face and head. The pain at times was so intense that I could scarcely keep from screaming, and nothing I was doing for the trouble seemed to help me. As time went on my whole nervous system was affected. At last when I felt that my case was almost hopeless I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The result of this treatment was that I am now enjoying such comfort as I had not known for years, and only those who have suffered from neuralgic pains can realize what a blessing the Pills have been to me."

If you are suffering from any blood or nervous disorder begin to cure yourself to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which you can get from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DUBIOUS

About What Her Husband Would Say

A Mich. woman tried Postum because coffee disagreed with her and her husband. Tea is just as harmful as coffee because it contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee. She writes:

"My husband was sick for three years with catarrh of the bladder, and palpitation of the heart, caused by coffee. Was unable to work at all and in bed part of the time.

I had stomach trouble, was weak and fretful so I could not attend to my housework—both of us using coffee all the time and not realizing it was harmful.

One morning the grocer's wife said she believed coffee was the cause of our trouble and advised Postum. I took it home rather dubious what my husband would say—he was fond of coffee.

"But I took coffee right off the table and we haven't used a cup of it since. You should have seen the change in us, and now my husband never complains of heart palpitation any more. My stomach trouble went away in two weeks after I began Postum. My children love it and it does them good, which can't be said of coffee.

"A lady upstairs who was usually half sick, I told her I'd make her a cup of Postum. She said it was tasteless stuff, but she watched me make it, boiling it thoroughly for 15 minutes, and when done she said it was splendid. Long boiling brings out the flavour and food quality." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

POISON IN SWEETS

Arsenic as Widely Used in India as in Ancient Rome

Arsenic is commonly employed by the professional poisoner in India, who will poison a whole family to make sure of one victim. The reports of the Bombay Government analyst throw some light on the methods. The poison is usually given in sweetmeats, and generally by a strange woman who has been met in the street, and who mysteriously disappears. This strange woman is found in every analyst's report for the last twenty years, and in circumstances so identical that it would almost seem to be the same person. Will this elusive person ever be captured by the Indian police?

Arsenic has, perhaps, been more frequently used than any other poison for criminal purposes. It has been proved identical with the wonder elixir of the seventeenth century, when secret poisoning became so frequent in Italy that the clergy, despite the rules of the confessional, acquainted Pope Alexander VII in 1668 with the extent of the practice.

It was found that young widows were abundant in Rome, and that most of the unhappy marriages were speedily dissolved by the death of the husband. A secret society of young matrons was discovered, which met at the house of La Sparta, a reputed witch, who supplied them with a slow, tasteless, colorless poison, carefully calculated to kill a husband in just the time that suited the purchaser. La Sparta and thirteen of her companions were hanged, a large number of the culprits were whipped half-naked, through the streets of Rome, while others of the highest rank escaped with heavy fines and banishment.—London Chronicle.

A Medical Need Supplied.—When a medicine is found that not only acts upon the stomach but is so composed that certain ingredients of it pass unaltered through the stomach to find action in the bowels, then there is available a purgative and a cleanser of great effectiveness. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are of this character and are the best of all pills. During the years that they have been in use they have established themselves as no other pill has done.

IMPERIAL NAVAL DEFENCE WILL BE DISCUSSED IN LONDON

Premier Borden and Cabinet Ministers Sail for England to Attend Conference with Imperial Authorities on Questions Effecting the Empire

Ottawa.—The premier and three of his ministers, Hon. Messrs. Hazen, Doherty and Pelletier have left for England on their Imperial mission. They expect to be absent about two months.

Of most importance among the questions to be considered by the Canadian ministers in London is of course the problem of Canada's co-operation in Imperial naval defence.

In this connection the premier and his colleagues, it is understood, are starting out with the intention of dealing in the conference with the Imperial authorities only with the broad lines as the fundamental basis of the whole problem so that a carefully matured plan may be evolved later. It is learned on good authority that there is no expectation of evolving any detailed plan this summer either for the creation of a Canadian navy or for direct contribution by Canada of war vessels to the Imperial fleet. The first issue to be settled according to the repeated statements of Premier Borden and Hon. Messrs. Monk, Hazen, Doherty, Pelletier and others of the ministers, both in public and in private is the question of autonomy.

The government is practically committed to demanding as a permanent basis for the Dominion's co-operation in Naval defence, represent-

OPPOSE CHINESE LOAN

The New Republic is Experiencing Trouble on all Sides

Pekin.—It is apparent that the forthcoming loan negotiations will be lengthy and arduous. The government is confronted on the one side with violent provincial opposition, which opposes any supervision and on the other by the groups of bankers who desire increased control extending considerably beyond what was required in the case of previous advances.

It is believed here that the government's acceptance of the banker's present proposals would surely bring a violent outbreak on the part of the people in opposition to the loan. The unfavorable reception with which the comparatively mild terms of supervision in the case of previous advances were met, indicates the almost universal sentiment against such supervision. The government officials however, are confident that some arrangement will be reached, as there is need of funds, particularly for the payment of the troops.

Opposition to the loan has created a dangerous situation which the government realizes requires careful handling. In addition the government is contending against a serious growth of sentiment in favor of provincial autonomy threatening central control, which is considered essential to the preservation of the nation.

FIVE MONTHS TO PREPARE

Will Take Long Time to Complete Government Terminal Elevator

Ottawa.—That it will take at the very least five months to prepare the working plans for the proposed new government terminal elevator was the opinion expressed by a well-known contractor who is in the city. The further conviction of the authority is to the effect that good progress will have been made if the elevator itself is ready for the handling of wheat by the fall of 1913. That it should be ready by next fall, he states, is absolutely out of the question.

The plans for the Grand Trunk Pacific elevator, which has a capacity of only a little over that of the proposed new government structure, being for 3,250,000 bushels, took nearly two years to perfect, while to gain some idea of the extent of such plant, it is stated that the working plant alone for the Port Colborne elevator weighed not less than 47,947 pounds.

Not This Year

Winnipeg.—The Grand Trunk Pacific passenger service to the head of the lakes from Winnipeg will not be established this year. This announcement was made from the office of the general passenger agent of the road. The reason given is that it has been found impossible to have the necessary material for the tracks on hand before the fall.

Count Von Hammerstein Killed

Winnipeg.—It is reported here through a communication of a friend that Count Von Hammerstein was killed in Paraguay, South America, where he was endeavoring to start a revolution. The count was here last summer after having been in the district north of Edmonton some weeks on an oil exploration trip and from which, it is said, he promoted several oil companies.

FREIGHT HEARINGS IN WEST

Dominion Railway Commission Will Hold Sittings From Fort William to Victoria

Ottawa.—The Dominion railway commission will hold a series of sittings throughout the west this month, starting at Fort William on July 17, and reaching Victoria about the end of the month. At each of these sittings will be pleased to consider the representations of any individual or body interested in the western freight rate case, and every opportunity will be given for the hearing of public complaints. Though the commission realizes that the case has now reached a stage where the railway and not the people are to be heard, it considers that these western hearings may reveal certain traffic conditions which may be of value later in the formation of a judgment.

While at Fort William the commissioner will also hold an informal conference with the board of grain commissioners relative to certain points in which the two boards have mutual interests.

The dates of the sittings are as follows:

Fort William, July 17; Winnipeg, July 18; Moose Jaw, July 20; Regina, July 22; Saskatoon, July 23; Edmonton, July 24; Calgary, July 25; Vancouver, July 27; Victoria, July 30.

The commission will be represented by Acting Chairman D'Arcy Scott and Commissioners Goodeve and Mills. On July 3 a sitting will be held at Ottawa, at which a lengthy list of cases relative both to operation and traffic will be heard. This and four sittings in Quebec will conclude the mid-summer work of the commission in the east.

COL. WHITE TO RETIRE

Head of the R.N.W.M.P. Has Not Been Enjoying Best of Health

Ottawa.—After many years of faithful and efficient work in the civil service of Canada, Col. Fred White superintendent of the R.N.W.M.P., is to retire.

Col. White was at one time in the service of the Grand Trunk and later fought as a private in the Fenian raid trouble. He became secretary to Sir John Macdonald and enjoyed the confidence of the great Conservative premier to an unusual degree. While acting as private secretary he was largely instrumental in organizing the mounted police, and as the force grew in strength, he gave his whole time to its direction. As head of the mounted police administration he has done valuable service. Latterly he has been in poor health, and has been on leave of absence. This leave has been extended at his own request till Jan. 1, when he will retire.

FOREST FIRES ALONG N.T.R.

Several Bridges Have Been Burned and Thousands of Ties Destroyed

Fort William.—Reports from Superior Junction state that great damage has been done along the line of the National Transcontinental Railway under construction east of that point by forest fires which assumed serious proportions on Monday and since then have swept the northern country. Several bridges, it is said, have been destroyed and thousands of ties have been burned. The work of construction will be held back for some time by the damage and loss of supplies. The damage to the bridges and the loss in ties alone is estimated at nearly $100,000. For two days the contractors all along the line have had their men at work fighting the flames, but in spite of their efforts it is said that at least one camp was destroyed. So far no loss of life has been reported. The camps keep well in touch with any parties in the bush and surveyors or prospectors who have been out are stated to be safe.

Several settlers, it is reported, were unable to save their humble homes and buildings.

SCENE IN BRITISH HOUSE

Labor Member Shrieks at Premier Because Female Prisoners Object to Eating

London.—A wild scene was enacted in the house of commons as the result of the forcible feeding of the suffragettes who declared a "hunger strike" in Holloway prison. George Lansbury rushed forward toward the ministerial benches, shouting at Premier Asquith: "You are beneath contempt; you call yourselves gentlemen, yet you forcibly feed and murder women. You ought to be driven to posterity as murderers of innocent women."

Speaker Lowther ordered Lansbury to be taken from the house.

Lansbury shouted: "I refuse to leave while this contemptible thing is being done, while women are being murdered and driven mad."

After a scene of great confusion he was induced by his friends to leave.

George Lansbury is a labor M.P., elected for Tower Hamlets, Bow and Bromley, in December, 1910. He is 53 years of age and was a member of the Royal Commission on the Poor Laws.

REACH CALGARY END OF AUGUST

Grand Trunk Pacific Track Laying Gangs are Working Night and Day

Calgary.—With everything satisfactory, gangs of men working night and day on the big 70-ton steam shovel, which is eating its way towards Calgary by the light of the sun in the daytime and the huge glare of two big searchlights at night, the Grand Trunk Pacific will be inside the city limits by the end of August and the steel will be lapped by the waters of the Bow less than thirty days later.

Francois Adam, Grand Trunk Pacific right-of-way commissioner, says: The men at work on the last two miles of the grading that will bring the grade right to the water's edge are straining nerve and sinew to be here on time. The gangs are made up of the oldest and most experienced railroad builders in the employ of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and behind them, straining hard to overtake the men on the grade, is the crack steel laying gang of the big road.

C.N.R. ACROSS CONTINENT

All Necessary Financing Done, Says Sir William MacKenzie

Montreal.—All the financing has been done for the completion of the Canadian Northern Railway from Montreal to the Pacific Ocean.

The proceeds of $35,000,000 guaranteed by the Canadian Government to build the section from Montreal to Port Arthur are in the bank and seven thousand men are at work hurrying forward the stretch to completion.

A splendid hotel will be built in the city of Montreal, on a site which the company considers the best in the city.

These are some of the announcements made recently by Sir William MacKenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, prior to leaving on the Royal George for England.

Bachelors, Not by Choice

Montreal.—In answer to a letter to Mayor Lavallee urging that bachelors be taxed, C. E. Vickery, Victoria, B. C., has written in reply to Mrs. Coleman, the author of the suggestion, saying:

"In answer to your question should bachelors be taxed, I would like to say that before bachelors in Victoria should be taxed, enough girls should be sent out here to give all us bachelors a chance to get married. There are about ten times as many men here as there are girls, but it seems like fifty times as many. It would not be right to tax bachelors for what they cannot help. It may be alright to tax bachelors in Montreal, but certainly not in Victoria."

Better Treatment for Insane

Toronto.—Toronto will spend $100,000 on the erection of a psychiatric hospital, which will be maintained by the provincial government. In addition to treating mental diseases the institution will house weak-minded and insane persons pending their admission to asylums instead of allowing them to remain in jail.

AN ARTISTIC TREAT

Two Splendid Attractions for the Winnipeg Exhibition

Henrietta Crosman and her great success, "The Real Thing" that has been running at the Maxine Elliott Theatre in New York since the middle of last summer, will be seen at the Walker Theatre for three nights starting Monday, July 8.

"The Real Thing" will need no introduction to local theatregoers. Its reputation has already preceded it. No doubt many from this city have seen the production in New York and have reported to their friends what a popular play it is.

Miss Crosman is coming with her New York cast and production and the cast will include those two wonderful children now with the play, Macomber and Allen Morrison.

With the coming of the Fair time Manager Walker will bring the comic opera production that is considered to be the most fascinating of the American theatrical year, "The Spring Maid." This merry work of Vienna melody and gay romance has proven so charming that it has successfully accomplished the remarkable feat of playing twice over the length and breadth of America in a single season in response to the demand for a second hearing. Werba and Luescher, who present this opera have done much in making this possible in practically holding intact the organization of singers and players that has been so greatly praised and in again presenting Fraulein Mizzi Hajos, the little Hungarian prima donna of charm, at the head of the company. They have also done the unprecedented thing in giving a big organization a new costuming and scenic dressing in the middle of a season, and the costumes to be seen at the Walker Theatre upon the return of "The Spring Maid" are gorgious reproductions of the famous dresses worn in the brilliant London production of the opera.

PRIZE WINNING B.C. FRUIT LANDS

OWN a five acre fruit and poultry tract (or more) in British Columbia and be independent for life. $20 down and $10 a month pays for it. No interest and payments extended in case of sickness. From $500 to $1,500 per acre realized by ranchers in this famous prize-winning district, the Main Kootenay Lake. Ideal climatic conditions, no rainy seasons as on the coast; no dry seasons or irrigation needed as in the Okanagan and Cranbrook districts. See Government reports. The main lake never freezes over and boats run the year around—see reports of other districts. I spent years in finding this ideal spot; I live there myself. I call my own fruit ranch—39 acres—"The Honeymoon Place." Send for my booklet entitled "Home-seeking." It tells you all you want to know about that great British Columbia country, and there are scores of questions answered.

The new booklet, "Harris' New Method of Apple Culture," tells you how apples can be made to come into commercial bearing the second year. The old way you had to wait five years. Where a farmer made $1,500 he can now make $3,000 per acre. It is free if you will send me the names of ten of your friends or relatives who may be interested in buying fruit lands. I have sold to over 400 people the last four months and would be pleased to send you copies of some of the nice letters that they have written to me, which I received from those who have visited their holdings which I picked out for them.

I refund you your money if after seeing the tract I should select for you you are not satisfied with it or the rest I have to offer. If you cannot go onto your tract and wish to retain your present position for a few years and spend your vacation out there, I will agree to plant it and take care of it for you for five years at a small additional cost and give you a share of the profits from crops. I allow you a discount of ten per cent. for cash and give you a good commission in case you can secure buyers for me.

My monthly price list for wild and improved tracts will interest the most careful buyer. My next excursion will be leaving Winnipeg June 27, and I will be pleased to have you join me. Send for my famous "Kootenay Magazine," issued monthly, illustrated and full of good things about that wonderful country. $2.50 per year, or 25¢ for sample copy. A year's subscription for 20 names and addresses (written plainly) of people interested in B. C. fruit lands.

Write me at once, giving name of a reliable reference, your nationality, amount you wish to invest, and I will forward booklet, map, etc. Address me personally at head office:

Neapolis News

Farmers are rejoicing these days. On account of the splendid showers crops put on a beautiful appearance.

Those in attendance at the Adventist camp meeting at Strathcona were Mrs. Randall and Alva, Mrs. Shaw, Edwin Oldham, Mrs. A. T. Prout and children, Mrs. C. Beatty and children. They report excellent service, comfortable tents and a deep spiritual interest in the word of God.

R. C. Oldham lost his old family horse, "Old Bill." He was interred in the family burying ground. He has a mare with a very bad wire cut, which may necessitate the killing of the animal.

Last Friday was the last day of the school at Neapolis and the little folks and parents were treated to a picnic, which was enjoyed by all.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

Westcott News

The wet, chilly weather of the past week gave rise to considerable speculation such as, how long is it going to last; but when Dominion Day, the day set for Westcott's great annual social gathering, dawned wet and chilly, everybody concerned felt decidedly uneasy. What was available of the committee got together, and after a short consultation, decided it would be impossible, under existing conditions, to carry out the program satisfactorily. Accordingly the telephone was brought into commission and the news, Westcott sports postponed till July the 12th, was spread far and wide. Contrary to expectations, however, a good many people turned out, and between showers they got out of it all the fun they could. A good ball game was pulled off, some good racing, the one mile foot race, which was made in five minutes and a few seconds, and some tug of war. Everybody went home rejoicing in the thought of having two sports days. It is expected the old programme will be carried out with a likely raise in the purses for some of Information as to the whereabouts of Mrs. John Wesley, aged 26 years, with black hair, brown eyes, short in stature, and stoutly built, who left her husband taking a two and a half year old child with her on June 26th, and who has been living on the old Albert Smith farm, two and one-half miles east of Didsbury. Mrs. Wesley was in poor health and it was feared that she was hardly responsible for her actions when she left her home. She is by birth an Austro-Hungarian and cannot speak English very well. PSORIASIS WAS CURED

After Five Years of Suffering—Three Doctors Failed and Said Case Was Incurable

Itching and Burning Was Terrible Until Relief and Cure Was Effected by DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Psoriasis is another name for chronic eczema. It is the worst form of this dreadful itching skin disease. Once eczema has reached this stage it is usually considered incurable.

But here is a case which proves again the wonderful healing power of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Not only does relief come quickly, but the resulting benefits are thorough and lasting.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Concession, Ont., writes: "I thought it my duty to write you telling you the great benefit I received from using Dr. Chase's Ointment. For five years I suffered with what three doctors told if any one offered to guarantee me a cure for $50.00 to keep my money in my pocket, as I could not be cured."

"The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head. The itching and burning was hard to bear. At last my brother read in the paper about Dr. Chase's Ointment as a healer. I used 8 boxes, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise the ointment enough, and you are at liberty to use my testimony, as I hope thereby to induce other sufferers to try the same."

Mamecie—Yes'm, it's a girl or lady what butts in.

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOODHealthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some arrangement have been denied this blessing.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. This is evidenced by the following letters which are genuine and truthful:

London, Ont.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking your famous medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my baby was born I was so ill I could not stand long or walk any distance. I had to lie down nearly all the time. After I took your medicine I felt like a new woman. I could work from morning till night and was happy and well. I certainly think it relieves pain at childbirth and recommends it to every woman who is pregnant. You may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."—Mrs. FRANK CONNIN, 122 Adelaide St., London, Ont.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way."—Mrs. J. J. 50,000 Unclaimed War Medals

In two large strong rooms at Woolwich Dockyard, Woolwich, Eng., are stored nearly 50,000 unclaimed South African medals. Each is engraved with the name of the man to whom it was awarded. These men are not now with the colors, but a staff of clerks and a department armed with medal lists and regimental records are endeavoring to trace them.

Many of this lost legion are irregulars who flocked to the British colors when war broke out, but who have since become scattered all over the world. One young man, for instance after the war, went prospecting in the interior. He turned up recently in Cape Town after an absence of nearly ten years and asked for his medal. It was given him. Similar demands from all parts of the British Empire are received nearly every week.

Hundreds of medals have been resting in regimental safes since 1904. At the end of ten years, according to the King's regulations, those still unclaimed will be broken up and the silver debited to the mint. Many men have refused the medal on the ground that it is "too cheap." Three-quarters of a million of the medals were struck—a fact which may have been lightly regarded.

But these South African awards are not the only medals at Woolwich awaiting claimants. There are 4,000 medals (with names engraved) for the Zulu campaign of 1878-79, and also seven medals presented by the British South African Company for the Matabele campaign. Claims for the Crimean and Indian Mutiny medals are still made. On an average the India office give away twelve Mutiny medals a year, while the war office bestows one Crimean medal a year and replaces about ten lost medals.

Dear Sirs.—This fall I got thrown on a fence and hurt my chest, very bad, so I could not work and it hurt me to breathe. I tried all kinds of liniments and they did me no good.

One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, warmed on flannels and applied on my breast, cured me completely.

Contents of a Man

An average man of 150 pounds contains the constituents found in 1,200 eggs. There is enough gas in him to fill a gasometer of 3,649 cubic feet. The iron in him would make four tenpenny nails. His fat would make 75 candles and a good-sized cake of soap. His phosphate contents would make 8,064 boxes of matches. There is enough hydrogen in him, in combination to fill a balloon and carry him above the clouds. The remaining constituents would yield six teaspoonsful of salt, a bowl of sugar, and ten gallons of water. The foregoing analysis is made by the Practical Druggist, which adds that a man has 500 muscles, about 1,000,000 cells, 200 bones, 4 gallons arteries and veins, more than 25 feet of intestines, and millions of pores. His heart weighs from 8 to 12 ounces; its capacity is from 4 to 6 ounces in each ventricle, and its size is 5 by 3 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches; it pumps 22 1/2 pounds of blood every minute, 16 tons in every 24 hours, about 5,840 tons a year; in a fully developed, "healthy adult" it beats about 72 times a minute.

The change of dietary that comes with spring and summer has the effect in weak stomachs of setting up inflammation, resulting in dysentery and cholera morbus. The abnormal condition will continue if not attended to and will cause an exhaustive drain on the system. The best available medicine is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It clears the stomach and bowels of irritants, counteracts the inflammation and restores the organs to healthy action.

Manager Wives

A well known doctor, who claims that Canadian motherhood is the highest type in the world, was asked if this was not partly due to the unusual amount of responsibility the Canadian husband allows his wife in family affairs.

Quite true, the doctor replied. The confidence her husband places in her makes the Canadian mother capable and self-reliant. The mother's share in a family's success or failure is a large one—much larger, indeed, than most men will acknowledge.

I see by the papers, a friend once said to me, that Footlights is traveling under his wife's management. So do most men, I replied, but they don't advertise it.

Was Jimmy Jinks angry at the result of his interview with Jenny Bink's father?

Well, he did say he felt quite put out.

PROGRESS OF CREMATIONOver Four Hundred Cremations at Montreal

The British Medical Journal in a recent article on the progress of cremation gives figures showing the growth of this method of disposing of the dead in Europe.

The total number of cremations in Great Britain during 1911 was 1,023, which shows an increase of 177 as compared with 1910. Since the opening of the Working Crematorium in 1885, there have been 9,984 cremations in Great Britain. At the present time there are 13 crematoriums in Germany, six of which started operations last year. A law has been recently passed permitting cremations in Prussia.

In Switzerland there are now ten crematoriums, three of which belong to the municipalities of Basel, Geneva and Zurich. There were 1,210 cremations in Switzerland in 1910.

There are about forty crematoriums in the United States, twenty-eight in Italy, five in France, four in Sweden and Norway, two in Russia, one in Denmark, and one in Montreal, Canada.

The beautiful crematorium in Mount Royal cemetery at Montreal was opened in 1902 and up to the close of 1911, 401 cremations took place there.

No matter how deep-rooted the corn or wart my be, it must yield to Holloway's Corn Cure if used as directed.

Pretty Smart Work

Residents in rival cities, Jones and Brown were bragging hard about the excellencies of their respective homes.

Take our fire brigade, said Jones, after an hour's heated discussion. Do you know, the other day a fire broke out in our town, and within three minutes the engine came along, but it was going so fast that the driver couldn't pull up till he was a mile past the burning house?

Brown smiled in a superior fashion.

My dear fellow, that's nothing, he said. One day two men were working on a church steeple in my city, and suddenly one of them slipped. A terrible death would have been his, only fortunately, a spectator had the presence of mind to call the fire brigade on the telephone, and they came just in time to catch him in a blanket.

Extermination of Rats and Mice

If it were generally known that there is no trouble to rid a house, barn or any building of rats and mice by the use of Gillett's Lye, it is doubtful if the article could be made as fast as it would be used for this purpose alone. The process connected with using it is very simple, the plan being to sprinkle a little of the article in and around the holes made by these pests in floors, partitions, etc. In addition to this it is well to use a thin piece of board about a foot square, or even smaller, and make a complete circle of the Lye on the board about a quarter of an inch deep, and inside of the circle place some meat or cheese. In endeavoring to get at the bait the feet of the rats and mice will be burned and the whole colony, whether large or small will immediately disappear from the premises.

The plan is worth trying, but the good kind—Gillett's Lye—should be procured. Refuse the many cheap imitations and substitutes.

The Wedding Gift

The bachelor community of a certain suburb were greatly scared by the advent amongst them of a fearsome type of the desperate, husband hunting spinster. After throwing each of the bachelors into a state of terror, lest he should be the recipient of her attentions, the lady finally captured the curate.

Local bachelordom was so intensely relieved at its escape that it united in presenting the curate with a splendid wedding present in the shape of a costly table-service. The curate was overwhelmed. "Such a magnificent gift!" he gasped.

Well, you see, my boy! exclaimed the chief of the local bachelors, it is really our thanksgiving service.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glycerine extract made from bloodroot, mandrake, stone, queen's root and golden seal and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food it requires. Eradicate the poisons from the blood with this alterative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden that builds up those weakened by disease.

Dr. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N.Y., has received many letters similar to the following:

Mr. FRED R. MUNRO, of Paradise, N. S., writes: "I take great pleasure in writing you as regards my case and its cure. In September I was taken with Typhoid Fever, which put me in a dreadful condition, with delirium, raving, nervous and sour rectum, so severe at times I had to sit up all night. I had no appetite, no strength, did not eat any good until, at last, I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and 'Pleasant Pellets,' which I did. Before I had used one bottle I saw a great improvement and when I had used this treatment two months, using only a few vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' I returned to perfect health. I cannot find words to express my thankfulness for this wonderful medicine. I advise all sufferers to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, as he cures when others fail."
